

Slavic, East European, and Eurasian Studies Minor

Program Description

The minor in Slavic, East European, and Eurasian Studies allows students to study the culture, politics, and history of one of the most significant world regions. Although students in any major will benefit from completing this minor, students in history, international affairs, political science, philosophy, economics, and business will gain knowledge in an area vital to our national interests that advances their career opportunities. At least twelve hours counted toward the minor must not duplicate hours counted toward the major.

This program is a part of the Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences.
