

MILS 4012: Leaders Complex World

4 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: MILS 4011 or Advanced Course Standing.

This course identifies and resolves ethical dilemmas. This course explores the dynamics of leading in the complex situations of current military operations in the contemporary operating environment (COE). Cadets examine differences in customs and courtesies, military law, principles of war, and rules of engagement in the face of international terrorism. They also explore aspects of interacting with non-governmental organizations, civilians on the battlefield, and host national support. The course places significant emphasis on preparing cadets for their first unit assignment. It uses case studies, scenarios, and "What Now, Lieutenant?" exercises to prepare cadets to face the complex ethical and practical demands of leading as commissioned officers in the United States Army.

MILS 4090: Special Topics in Military Science

1-5 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Must be enrolled in, or have successfully completed both MSIII and MSIV-level ROTC classes or obtain permission from the Professor of Military Science.

This course allows for independent study with a faculty member. Topics and research will pursue topics of military science not extensively treated in any other Military Science course.

MILS 4400: Directed Study in Military Science

1-10 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

This course is offered to military science students interested in investigating special topics external to regular course offerings. This course is primarily offered as a completion course. Its secondary intent is to afford the Military Science Department the flexibility to offer course work to students who have special circumstances in their academic and commissioning requirements such as nursing and accelerated commissioning program cadets.

NS 1000: Naval Science Leadership Lab
