

PSYC 4475: Psychology of Workplace Motivation and Leadership

3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: One 3000-level psychology course

This course examines topics of motivation and leadership in the workplace by addressing theoretical formulations, major research findings and real-world applications. Issues related to these topics will include gender, corporate culture, job attitudes, cross-cultural influences and organizational reward systems.

PSYC 4490: Special Topics in Psychology

Variable 1-3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: One 3000-level psychology course

This course will address selected topics of special interest to faculty and students.

PSYC 4498: Capstone Internship in Psychology

(3-6) Credit Hours

Prerequisite: PSYC 4100 and one course from each of the four psychology course areas (any one of the four psychology course areas can be completed concurrently with PSYC 4498), and permission of the instructor (via departmental application).

Concurrent: Any one of the four psychology course areas can be completed concurrently with PSYC 4498.

The Capstone Internship in Psychology course is a structured off-campus experience in a supervised setting that is chosen in relation to the student's major and interests. Practical experience is combined with a research approach that investigates issues relevant to the internship. Students meet with the internship coordinator to develop an appropriate plan that leads to writing and presenting a research-oriented paper that integrates prior academic experiences in psychology, a requirement of the capstone experience.
